Microcosm Publishing is an independent publisher and distributor based in Bloomington, IN and Portland, OR. We distribute ideas through zines, books, pamphlets, stickers, buttons, patches, t-shirts, posters, films, and more! We focus on publishing zines and books in the hopes that it will add credibility to zine writers and their ethics. Our titles attempt to teach DIY self-empowerment and show hidden history while nurturing people's creative side. We began in 1996 with one person doing part-time mailorder out of a bedroom.

With so many new items in the catalog, we no longer list everything in the print version because things go out of stock over the course of the year. For the daily updated list check our website: microcosmpublishing.com

Team Bloomington features Sparky, Dylan, and Chris. Team Portland features Joe, Rio, and Matt. In Kansas we have Jessie and Adam and in Chicago Nate makes our website. Our catalog is a collective vision with titles picked and decided upon as a group. This year's cover was done by Sparky Taylor.

Some titles are sold on sliding scale. Like a museum, pay what you can afford within that scale.

Our catalog is distributed by people like you. We can send you a stack to leave in local stores, coffeshops, or clubs. This is vital to our distribution structure and if you could help it would be much appreciated.

Our Published Titles

13 YEARS OF GOOD LUCK $1-4 (4 oz) To celebrate our thirteenth anniversary, we put together this compilation of work from our authors and artists. It's a super cheapo deal so you can check out things in our catalog that you may have missed or find your new favorite artist. With pieces from virtually everyone we've published before and new work from Al Burian, Liz Baillie, Keith Rosson, John Isaacson, Nate Beaty, Cristy Road, and more, what more could you want for $1?

APPLICANT $3-5 (3 oz) Rescued from a dumpster! Graduate school applications with photos from the '60s and '70s are accompanied by comments from professors. Some of them are so funny that you will laugh out loud while others are shockingly disturbing. A must for students and job seekers.

BAMBOOZLED: THE JOEY TORREY STORY $4-6 (5 oz) Bamboozled is the story of LA boxer Joey Torrey's rise from teenage Olympic hopeful to Max Security prisoner. Joey's life is a rough one full of death, swindles, and disappointment, never a dull (or calm) moment. A big part of this brutal memoir zine is the tale of Joey's titular bamboozling at the hands of the FBI. After being pressured to name names and help the Feds "clean up boxing," our anti-hero was paid back with broken promises and a whole new batch of enemies! Scary stuff. One heckuva cautionary tale.

BAREFOOT & IN THE KITCHEN: VEGAN RECIPES FOR YOU $6-10 (6 oz) This heavily illustrated vegan cookbook is packed with delicious recipes and entertaining essays. Not at all an exclusive affair, Barefoot and in the Kitchen works with ingredients available to folks everywhere—not just those with access to fancy health food stores. Make a basic white sauce, your own seitan, mac'n'cheese, cornbread, and cookies. Folks who have been vegan for awhile will love variations like stuffed shells, dirty rice, and "Cinnamon Buns of Doom." For Ashley, resistance is tasty and once you try out these recipes, your resistance will taste good too!

THE BEST OF INTENTIONS: THE AVOW ANTHOLOGY $10-14 (14 oz) A big ol' whopping collection (issues 11-16 and selections from 1-10!) presented here as a one-stop-shop of a book. Keith Rosson's stories and art show him neck-deep in a hard-living knockaround life. This is existentialism done punk rock style with a good sense of humor to lighten up all the bloodletting. Keith has done artwork for Submission Hold, Against Me!, and HearttaCk (among many others) and the illustrations here do not disappoint. If you're into Burn Collector and Cometbus this is essential per-zine action!

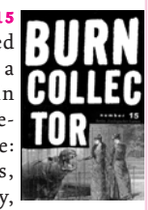
BIPEDAL, BY PEDAL! #1 $2 (2 oz) A social history and tactics lesson about the Critical Mass bicycle movement. Initially meant to serve as a lesson for the unaware, this document is a refresher and motivator about the movement. The biggest question:"is Critical Mass a protest or a celebration?" is explored in extensive detail here.

THE BOOKBINDERY $4-6 (3 oz) Sarah Royal spent some time working in a Chicago book bindery. From the get-go, she dispels any of our illusions of book-making fantasy, "It's a glorified Kinko's..." and gives us a guided tour of her work and co-workers. It's funny—especially the snippets of dialog—and it's full of beautiful photos of the bindery. Sometimes the humor is at the expense of her co-workers, or those in the bindery's hilariously out-of-control neighborhood. So if you like stories about quirky employees interacting, or killing time on the clock, then this zine is for you!

BRAINFAG FOREVER (BFF) $8-12 (7 oz) BFF collects issues 5 and 8-10 of illustrator Nate Beaty's (Zinester's Guide to Portland) long out-of-print comic zine and shows the man tackling lovelife blues and smashing around in the world looking for a good partner, a decent place to sleep, and a little peace of mind. Very American Splendor-esque in the best possible way. The Great American Novel as a 224-page comic collection!

BURN COLLECTOR #14 $6-10 (4 oz) Heck yeah, it's the new issue of Burn Collector! Here, in Burn Collector #14, zine superstar Al Burian lays down 156 pages of truth, trouble, and everyman blues. Whether battling the cops in Chicago, essaying the frenetic nervous breakdown of city life, spilling the secret truth of all religions, or talkin' comix and punk shows, Burian does so with class, humor, and a timeless feel for language. Burn Collector #14 is heavily illustrated, dense with stories, and ripped right from the headlines of Burian's hilarious, rowdy life.

BURN COLLECTOR #15 $3 (3 oz) The expatriated Al Burian reflects on a year spent living in Berlin. His wildly free-range topics include: freedom, happiness, animal liberty, Aristotle, modern dentistry, riots as rituals, uncomfortable proximity to drunken teenagers, and how to best color co-ordinate an outfit that includes a Black Flag T-shirt and a baby stroller. Plus: "When You Realize the Freedom," an illustrated essay by Anne Elizabeth Moore. "Burian is one of our generation's great storytellers, a wily and insightful observer of the human condition," says Davy Rothbart of Found magazine, and Al says this is "the best one yet."



CHAINBREAKER: A ROUGH GUIDE TO BICYCLE MAINTENANCE $12-18 (12 oz) Chainbreaker is Shelley Jackson and Ethan Clark's big bicycle how-to. Whether you're a beginner to bike maintenance or a blacktop-grizzled veteran, there's something for everyone in this book's 256 richly-illustrated pages! Shelley and Ethan worked together at the Plan B Bike Project and French Quarter Bicycles in New Orleans and bring a wealth of DIY knowledge to the game. The first half is a repair manual and the second reprints the first four issues of the Chainbreaker zine, the originals of which were destroyed in Hurricane Katrina. Essential reading.

CIA Makes SciFi Unexciting #1 $2 (2 oz) A Jack Chick looking zine about the involvement of the CIA and FBI in the assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr. Tons of disregarded evidence, discredited witnesses, and dismissal of any testimony that disagrees with the official one—that James Earl Ray killed Martin Luther King, Jr. alone.

CIA Makes SciFi Unexciting #2 $2 (2 oz) The history of U.S. chemical/biological testing and development! The text explains how the HIV virus cannot scientifically be related to AIDS, CIA and military documents requesting the creation of a virus with the clinical description of AIDS, how AIDS death statistics have been inflated for the last 20 years, and the dangers of "miracle cure" drugs killing patients even faster.

CIA Makes SciFi Unexciting #3 $2 (2 oz) Resembling an airplane safety manual, this zine talks about the way the PATRIOT act and post-9/11 security illegally infringe upon basic American rights, freedoms, civil liberties, and the Constitution.

CIA Makes SciFi Unexciting #4 $2 (2 oz) On Sept 23, 2005 The FBI fired over 120 bullets into the home of Ojeda Rios, the head of the militant Puerto Rican independence group "Los Macheteros" and the FBI's most wanted man until 9/11. In Puerto Rico, he has long been viewed as a hero. Many Puerto Ricans of all political stripes have questioned the FBI's actions, especially because the shooting took place on the anniversary of an 1868 uprising against imposed Spanish rule.

CIA Makes SciFi Unexciting #5 $2 (2 oz) The latest installment discusses at length the details of Iran/Contra. In 1986, President Reagan was secretly selling weapons to enemies in Iran and then illegally using the profits to fund the anti-Sandinista rebel Contras in Nicaragua. Relive the excitement of the government denying responsibility and knowledge that it was going on!

CIA Makes SciFi Unexciting #6 $4-6 (4 oz) An intimate look at the life and death of Lee Harvey Oswald. We have a full and panoramic look at Oswald's short, conflicted, adventure-filled life. Using exclusive info and newly declassified documents, CIAMSFU #6 puts into perspective a richly-detailed version of the Oswald story, from birth in 1939 to his historic televised assassination.

Coffeeshop Crushes #1 $2-3 (3 oz) Nicole J. Georges (Invincible Summer zine) and Jon Van Oast have put together a sweet little ode to fallin' in love with your local barista. Contributors include folks like Shawn Granton (Zinester's Guide to Portland), Greig (Clutch), Nate Beaty (Brainfag), and Marriage Records artist Brad Adkins, as well as a ton of anonymous pieces. This little heartbreaker is half comics, half short stories. A perfect companion to your next cup of joe!

Constant Rider Omnibus $5-7 (5 oz) This book combines the first 7 issues of Constant Rider zine, detailing countless years of riding buses and trains. Author Kate Lopresti knows how to spin an engaging story out of fights, intoxicated passengers, or even what fellow travelers are reading.

The Curious Case of the Communist Jell-O Box $2-4 (1 oz) This awesome "poster zine" shows the sordid shared history between Jell-O and nuclear secrets. Wait. What? Yep, Jell-O and nuclear secrets. Packed with espionage and intrigue, this super sweet poster (featuring declassified documents!), details the not-so-well-known connections between America's favorite jiggly fruit snack and the Manhattan project, government propaganda campaigns, and executed spies (or were they?) Ethel and Julius Rosenburg. It's totally like a John Grisham novel ... only, y'know, not stupid and predictable and terribly written. There's always room for J-E-L-L-O. And nukes! And the truth!

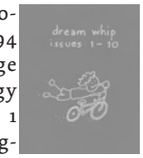
Distance Makes the Heart Grow Sick $12 - 18 (10 oz) A collection of 6 years of Cristy Road art featured here on 90 postcards. Includes work from Bitch and Jane magazines, Green Day, The Queers, The Icarus Project, and more.

Do-It-Yourself Screenprinting $9-12 (12 oz) A fascinating DIY guide in comic form detailing and teaching the art and science of screenprinting. From inception to printing t-shirts, street vending to working in a print shop, everything is here to produce beautiful pro-looking art.

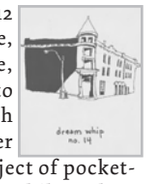
Doris #15 $2 (2 oz) Doris 15 starts by stating "There is nothing wrong with a little depression. It is a reasonable response to this fucked up world and you don't need to hide or deny it." That's what makes this anti-depression guide so great. It doesn't treat depression like a disease that needs to be hidden and suppressed with the latest trend in drug therapy. Instead, it offers fun, real-life advice from someone who has dealt with depression. New edition!

Doris #23 $2 (2 oz) This, the L-M-N-O issue of the alphabet series, discusses love, the ladies' group she attends with her grandmother, the process of menstrual extraction, stories of living with her grandparents in Arizona, and a frightening trip to California.

Doris Book: An Anthology 1991-2001 $12-16 (18 oz) Cindy makes writing about the simplest and most common things—playing music, childhood, cooking, or sex—resonate with universal understanding. She helps make sense of more complex things like gender dynamics, rape, introspection, abortion, the need for challenge and change, combating depression, the satisfaction from doing useful work, and creating art. Seamless writing that feels like a close friend opening up to you.



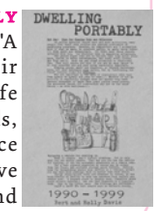
Dreamwhip #1-10 $10-14 (11 oz) Spanning 1994 to 1999, this 352-page pocketsize anthology collects issues 1 through 10 of the long-running Dream Whip zine. Inside, Bill Brown hits the road and finds adventure far and wide. Each page is lovingly handwritten or typed and illustrations and photographs abound. It's tornadoes and pet cemeteries, Alaskan highways and the lonely ruins of government missile sites. Bill Brown's America is seen with the big, dreaming heart of a romantic, everything recorded in sweet, smart, funny, beautifully-simple prose.



Dreamwhip #14 $8-12 (10 oz) Doubling in size, and bound with a spine, Bill Brown continues to treat us with so much magic inside the cover of this handwritten object of pocket-sized art. A wandering philosopher, he tells funny, engrossing, and captivating stories and anecdotes.

Dreamwhip #15 $6 (6 oz) Bill Brown takes us on yet another journal through his highly quotable observations. Not quite detached, he remarks upon and illustrates the world around him in unique detail. "In Austin it was impossible to go on a simple errand without falling in love. Every time I mailed a letter or went to buy a loaf of bread, I'd end up with a broken heart."

Dwelling Portably 1980-89 $7-10 (7 oz) Dwelling Portably has been crammed full of information about living without a permanent residence for nearly 30 years! Super helpful and informative tips for biking, tents, showering, cooking, and living. Written by many folks who have lived the lifestyle far outside of cities and bereft of technology. According to reader polls, '80-'89 was their best material and here it is, reprinted in entirety.



Dwelling Portably 1990-99 $7-10 (7 oz) "A combination memoir and guide to daily life focusing on the skills, tips, tricks, and advice needed to live comfortably and healthily, whether in a tent, car, van, or bus." -Midwest Book Review

This collection of Dwelling Portably marks another decade of great tips for living portably, cheaply, and sustainably.

Dwelling Portably 2000-2008 $7-10 (7 oz)

"Practical advice about low-budget motion by choice—camping on the edges, living simply, getting by on the road and loving it. It's for modern nomads in the U.S. choosing alternative lifestyles to working 9-5 in the same place." - Cool Tools

Holly and Bert Davis have been putting this collection of tips and anecdotes out for decades. Content ranges from cooking and bathing out of your car, to edible weeds, to improvised bicycle panniers, to musings on 12-volt microfiche readers.

Edible Secrets $8-12 (10 oz)

What do top-secret CIA assassination plots, Black Panther arrests, and Reaganomics have in common? Food, of course! Michael Hoerger and Mia Partlow collect, contextualize and graphically narrate declassified government documents with food as a theme. Providing a voyeuristic insight into the U.S. government, these documents are like reality TV for politicos and foodies: assassinations by milkshake, subliminal popcorn cravings, Reagan's love of hydroponics, and what could be Fred Hampton's most radical action—giving ice cream to small children.

Firebrands: Portraits of Americans $8-12 (6 oz)

Curated by the Justseeds Artists' Collective, Firebrands is 192 pages of art, world history, and dangerous information. These beautifully illustrated mini-poster pages showcase radicals, dissidents, folk singers, and rabble-rousers, from Emma Goldman to Tupac, Pablo Neruda to Fred Hampton. As say editors Shaun Slifer and Bec Young in the introduction, the book "is especially made for anyone who has sat, trembling with frustration and disappointment in history class, or reading a text book heavily edited of anything interesting or useful. This is a real people's history, a book packed with dynamite, desire, and, above all, courage."

The Flow Chronicles $8-12 (10 oz)

The Urban Hermitt is a young, queer hiphop artist, poet, and hard-traveler. For those familiar with the celebrated zine, his picaresque look at queer life and love, this book is the genesis and cornerstone of it all. Here we see the then-teenage Hermitt navigating a dirty, pockmarked trailerpark landscape of sketchy stoners, confused punks, and sinister hippies. The Flow Chronicles is the confused, horny, philosophical nomadic Hermitt against the world. A raw, druggy, sexed-up coming-of-age story, The Flow Chronicles is a battle from the get-go, but it comes complete with a good eye for irreverent, sharp, no-bullshit humor (and for the tender moments in the midst of horror).

Green Zine #14 $3 (4 oz)

Cristy Road has always brought breathtaking artwork and strong literary stories that remind of the tenacity and ability of punk youth. This powerful issue reflects on Cristy's homes—Miami and Philadelphia, racism in her communities, coming to terms with assault, gender, sexuality, and identity, and much more. Once a fanzine devoted to Green Day, this zine has evolved into literary prose.

Hot Damn & Hell Yeah: / The Dirty South $6-9 (6 oz)

his vegan cookbook is like a good split 7"—two different artists bringing the goods to make a cohesive whole. Ryan's half (the Hot Damn and Hell Yeah section) is some spicy goodness with everything from Bourbon Whiskey BBQ sauce to Country Fried Tofu! Vanessa's half is straight from the mouth of the dirty south! We're talkin' southern cooking vegan-style! Includes secret family recipes and tips on cooking with oil. Some recipe highlights: Johnny Cakes, Seitan Fried "Chicken", Black Eyed Pea Cakes, BBQ Tofu Ribs, Turnip Stew, Sweet Potato Pudding, and Pumpkin Fritters! Yum!

How & Why: A do-it-yourself manual $11-17 (8 oz)

"I dream of a better world," writes zinester and How and Why author Matte Resist in the intro to his new book. He continues, "To me DIY culture is about grabbing a little piece of that dream." What follows over the course of the next 281 pages is Matte doing what all dreamers must do—waking up from his dream, opening his eyes, and confronting what roadblocks and hurdles lie between him and his goal. Matte does this by laying down chapter upon chapter of blueprints for a better world. A sequel to our do-it-yourself handbook Making Stuff and Doing Things, How and Why gives detailed, engaging, easy-to-use info on bicycles, home and garage, gardening, educating children, musical instruments, and the all-inclusive "everything else" section. If you dream of taking back your life and building a better world, How and Why might be your new best friend.

How To Make Soap $2-3 (1 oz)

Raleigh Briggs, author of Make Your Place, is back with a pamphlet on better, healthier living. How To Make Soap contains basic directions, recipes, a list of resources, and assorted tips and tricks to make your homemade soaps special. Raleigh takes a seemingly arduous task, and makes it breezy and fun, with her charming hand-drawn illustrations and easy to follow directions. How to Make Soap is a great guide (and gift!) for the beginning soapmaker, looking for a place to start.

Hurt: Notes About Torture in a Modern Democracy $4-5 (4 oz)

Portland activist Kristian Williams' collection of articles and interviews on the history, psychology, and current state of torture in democratic societies. Dark, informative, and oft times harrowing, but it's also about working hard to intact change. A manual on fighting and understanding torture—a piece of the struggle itself.

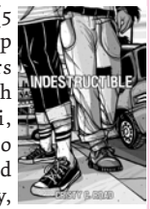
I Hate This Part of Texas #5 $3 (3 oz)

The gem here is the story of teaching 9-15 year olds how to fix bikes. The whole zine transcends the obvious and covers all kinds of education— homophobia, identity, feminism, and questions what we mean when we say "community." It's all very exciting and best of all, it can spark new life and faith in yourself!

I Hate This Part of Texas #7 $2 (2 oz)

Hope and John team up on this split zine reflecting on hurricane Katrina. Both long-time New Orleans residents, each has to come to terms with loss in their own way. Both Hope and John take their time here and present a somber account of life after a natural disaster. Their words embody what it means to be human, each story picking up another piece, and slowly putting their world back together.

Indestructible $5-7 (5 oz)



Cristy Road offers up a novel about her years in grade school and high school in Miami, valiantly trying to figure out and defend her gender identity, cultural roots, punk rock nature, and mortality. You know that the artwork alone in here makes this an exciting page turner.

In Search of the Lost Taste $6-10 (5 oz)

Joshua Ploeg's cooking blows our mind so much that a secret door opens in the back of our head and white doves, musical notes, and winged horses fly out. His cooking is transcendent, dangerous, strange and perfect. It's full of colorful tastes that explode in your mouth like Pop Rocks flavor combinations you never thought possible. Joshua's the Traveling Chef; you make an appointment, he shows up at your house with a load of groceries, makes an incredible multicourse vegan meal using your pots and pans, and then he's gone like the Lone Ranger riding into a big Texas sunset! Joshua's been in a bunch of hardcore bands and he brings all the good things punk rock gave us—risk, passion, creativity, and weirdness—and then applies them to his meals. A Ploeg meal is an experience in the finest sense of the word. These are the man's recipes.

Invincible Summer Vol. 1 $10-14 (12 oz)

Nicole J. Georges captures her life in unique heartfelt illustrations and stories in this much-beloved comic journal anthology. Tales of dogmothering, chicken raising, vegan snacks, and more. A whirlwind tour through Nicole's life!

Invincible Summer Vol. 2 $12-16 (12 oz)

This volume of the Invincible Summer anthology collects issues 9-14 of Nicole J. Georges' comic zine, this time around focusing on a relationship gone bad. The love begins, blossoms, and then falls apart—as she sails solo on the ocean, pictorially speaking. Heartbreaking and hilarious.

Journalsong #6 $2 (3 oz) This, the 6th issue of Steve Gevurtz's Portland-centric zine, is a full monkeybarrel of life—both good times and bad. Whether Steve's essaying the cult and culture of zine writing, wishing he could believe in Jesus, or conversing with a glass of whiskey, this is some of the best and most conversationally literate zine prose out there. Completely typewritten with a fancy acetate cover, this issue is accompanied by beautiful and cute drawings by Nicole J. Georges (Invincible Summer) and is a perfect fit for anyone looking for some homespun philosophy, punk rock ethics, and all-around solid, winning prose.

Learning Good Consent $3 (4 oz) Curated by Doris editor Cindy Crabb, Learning Good Consent looks at the culture of sexual consent from a standpoint both sexy and educational. Over the course of 46 pages, Cindy and friends create a well-rounded consent workshop, with all sites set on healing and helping. In a world of shady abusers, demonized victims, and one-sided dating rituals, Consent has your back. As says Cindy in the zine's intro, "Talking about our experiences with consent, our struggles, our mistakes and how we've learned, these are part of a much larger revolutionary struggle."

Make a Zine!: When Words and Graphics Collide book $5-9 (6 oz) Ask anyone who works for a magazine—it's a job. Ask anyone who works on their zine—it's a passion. And this book is a starting point for launching your own zine. A virtually endless supply of how-to guides makes this an indespensible guide and the appendices add extensive directories of stores, libraries, reviewers, and zine distributors.

Make Your Place: Affordable, Sustainable Nesting Skills $5-9 (5 oz) Raleigh Briggs teaches how to craft a sustainable domestic life outside of consumer consciousness. It's full of simple skills that anyone can and should learn. From creating tinctures and salves, to concocting all-natural cleaners, to gardening basics, this book is great for anyone looking to live more simply and truly do it themselves.

Making Stuff and Doing Things: A Collection of DIY Guides to Doing Just About Everything! $10-14 (16 oz) Kyle Bravo has assembled his HOW2 zines into a comprehensive book along with dozens of other instructional articles that tell you how to do it all. Topics include: direct action, gardening, making a woodstove, solar box cooker, egg replacer, making wine, homeschooling, fixing a toilet, making rubber stamps, making puppets, billboard improvement, how to sexually stimulate your partner, DIY birth control, how to handle an overdose, self-defense, preventing ear infections, and much more!

Mostly True $7-10 (7 oz) Bill Daniel spent twenty years crafting a remarkable first feature film, Who Is Bozo Texino?, a documentary about modern day hobos, rail workers, and a forgotten outsider subculture. In this companion book to the film, Daniel provides a captivating look at a little-known art form. Along the way Daniel interviews numerous old timers who have spent years on the rails drawing their monikers, among them graffiti legends Colossus of Roads, The Rambler, Herby (RIP), and the ever-illusive Bozo Texino.

My Brain Hurts #1-5 $5-8 (5 oz) Teenage queer punks get in trouble when they aren't flirting over loud music or postering their high school. It's just like you want your highschool peers to be—pissing off the administration and taking care of each other when things get rough.

My Brain Hurts #6-10 $6-9 (6 oz) Liz Baillie's second volume about the adventures of queer punks in New York City! Our story resumes with Joey in a coma after an incident of queer bashing and Kate and Desi's relationship on the rocks. Will queer teenage romance succeed? Will our heroes prevail over high school principals, skinheads, and a homophobic society?

Nine Gallons #2 $4-5 (3 oz)  It's issue two of Susie Cagle's celebrated Food Not Bombs comic zine, 9 Gallons! Susie addresses issues of volunteer burn-out, misguided agendas, and activist in-fighting. Hers is the story of San Francisco Food Not Bombs. It's a struggle the whole way through while Susie looks for inspiration, answers, and hope, and runs up against nine thousand gallons of contradictory activist philosophy. An important moment (and message) comes late in the zine when Susie chats with a friend over email who tells her, "It's not about doing it, Susie. It's about doing it better." Part Food Not Bombs primer, part clear-headed look at volunteer ethics and philosophy, 9 Gallons' second issue is a well-drawn story, a relevant discussion, and a thoroughly enjoyable read.

Nez Perce Indians (3 oz) $3 In part eight of The Simple history zine series, J. Gerlach takes a good hard look at the Nez Perce Indians, also known as the Nimiipuu. They are shown as walking, talking, flesh and blood human beings with an ethical culture and a strong desire for freedom and autonomy. One of the tribes oft ignored by mainstream history books, this zine focuses on a rebellious band of Nez Perce who decided to say enough is enough when asked to give up their land.

Notes from Underground: Zines and the Politics of Alternative Culture (11 oz) $10-16 Much history and theory is uncovered here in the first comprehensive study of zine publishing. From their origins in early 20th century science fiction cults, their more proximate roots in '60s counter-culture, and their rapid proliferation in the wake of punk rock, Stephen Duncombe pays full due to the political importance of zines as a vital network of popular culture. He also analyzes how zines measure up to their utopian and escapist outlook in achieving fundamental social change. Packed with extracts and illustrations, he provides a useful overview of the contemporary underground in all its splendor and misery.

On Subbing: The First Four Years $4-7 (5 oz)  On Subbing is Dave Roche's tales of woe as a substitute teacher. Dave helps kids who can't function in normal classrooms focus on their work and keeps them from fighting while they tease him or adorably flirt with him. Totally hilarious! Totally heavy! Totally worth a paltry five bucks. This illustrated epic of zine-y comedy is a Microcosm staff favorite.

Perfect Mix Tape Segue #2 $.75 (2 oz) Joe writes about honest communication, the opportunity costs of various choices, social awkwardness, and drinking iced tea. Questions are raised about the various life paths and whether or not people really think their decisions through or feel pressured to do certain things.

Perfect Mix Tape Segue #3 $1 (2 oz) Joe Biel strives to find logic, purpose, and meaning in his existence once again. This issue is about friends having accidental babies by the boatload and his resulting vasectomy to prevent himself from befalling the same fate. Plenty of details about seeking out a vasectomy, the actual surgery, and the reasons why. It's probing and personal with slice of life reality.

Perfect Mix Tape Segue #4 $1.50 (2 oz) About a zine tour in 2004—a collection of hand drawn maps, photos, and travelling anecdotes from the road; the zine presents a pretty strong case about human comradery. Look at all of the great, zany experiences that you, yourself could experience on the road!

Perfect Mix Tape Segue #5 $1 (1 oz)  This new issue details over fifteen years of Joe Biel's improving and declining physical health as he battles doctors, naturopaths, and weirdos to try and figure out what exactly is wrong with him. Meant as a relateable tale for those who have experienced any kind of mysterious hardship, the zine is a jumping off point metaphor for all kinds of complicated and technical problems.

Please Don't Feed The Bears book $7-11 (7 oz)  In the vein of the classic Soy Not Oi, Please Don't Feed The Bears compiles 3 issues of the previously self-published vegan cookbook with a range of tasty dishes. Simple and straight forward, you'll find incredible recipes for stews, soups, sauces, noodle and bean dishes, baked entrees, desserts, and more!

Rad Dad #18 $3 (3 oz) In his biggest issue ever, Tomas continues to focus on anarchism and parenting. Our trusty editor zeroes in on sex and love this time around: talking to his son about internet pornography; a disturbing story of a single mother who is fetishized as such; a few people's stories of polyamory and non-monogamy; a troubled tale of nude photos of children; a sad story about anarchist mentalities driving a wedge between a mother and her anarchist community; Dani Burlison bribes her daughter not to kiss a boy until she's 18; kids learning violence...from Star Wars. Plus an interview with Dr. Chris White about teaching sex education to sex educators.

Rad Dad #19 $3 (3 oz) As "Parenting has taught me a lot about dealing with things I'd rather not deal with." says the intro This is the Rad Dad "heavy topics" issue—issues like racism, sexism, death, domestic violence, police brutality, and environmental crisis. Rad Dad is about not shutting off when kids need help making sense of the things happening around them.

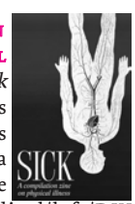
A Rough Guide to Bicycle Maintenance $1 (1 oz) Basics like fixing a flat tire, working with wheels, the parts of a bike, bearings, doing a tune-up, tools, and dealing with bike shops as a woman.

Scam Anthology $13-19 (18 oz) Scam was equal parts an introductory guide on how to get things for free and punk memoir. Youths experienced trainhopping, house shows, and cross-country tours that sought out swimming holes. Community was sought and celebrated through generator punk shows on Mission Street, hunting for cans of beer on Easter, and Food Not Bombs. Angst was manifested while stealing electricity from lampposts, squatting in Miami, selling plasma, tagging freight trains, wheatpasting, spraying salt water into vending machines, returning stolen merchandise, and dumpstering as seen through the lens of a young punk. Scam has gone on to inspire a generation of imitators, the highest form of flattery.

Shut Up & Love The Rain $4 (3 oz) Robnoxious takes us along his path from early sexual exploration to his current sex-positive, constantly-deprogramming, über-healthy queerness! Rob's writing and comics show that experimentation should start early, that guilty pleasures needn't be guilty, and that talking it over and being honest with each other will lead to nothin' but good. Over the course of 64 pages, you get personal history and sex/queer-related reviews. There's hilarious, illuminating essays, intimate accounts of relationships outside the margins, and a touching, inspiring interview with Rob's parents after his father came out as transgendered. Subheadlined "To Queer Anarchist Happiness Thru Good Living," Rob's brand-new comix and writing zine is just that—happy, living well, queer, and anarchist, and damn proud!

The Secret Files of Captain Sissy #5 $4 (5 oz) A departure from his style, still building upon and critiquing the punk community. Stories including skateboarding injuries from not wearing a helmet, student racial and anti-sweatshop activism, working for the Steelworkers Union, a couple weeks on the road with Mobilivre Bookmobile, thoughts on freedom fries and the PATRIOT act, book reviews of radical autobiographies, and my favorite article of all, a crazed account of the west Philadelphia co-op strike of 2002 where disagreements over one staff person's position and reluctance to work with the group lead to shutting down the co-op, macho intimidation, and putting a pallet of food on the trolley tracks! The tales of the steel union were fascinating as it challenges punk activism up a notch and tells stories of a queer man working in an industry where many of us do not get an inside look.

Sick: A Compilation Zine on Physical Illness $4-7 (4 oz) Sick collects people's experiences with illness to help establish a collective voice of those impacted within radical/left/DIY communities. The zine is meant to be a resource for those who are living with illness as well as those who have not directly experienced it themselves. Contributors discuss personal experiences as well as topics such as receiving support, providing support, and being an informed patient. These writings are meant to increase understandings of illness and further discussion as well as action towards building communities of care.



Snakepit 2007 $5-8 (6 oz) Follow Ben through his daily life illustrated as 3 comic panel adventures with beer, weed, work, shows, tour, love, and parties filled with monsters. His drawing and writing style is sincere and heartfelt, and you can imagine and feel his highs and lows. Each day is illustrated along with what he was listening to while drawing the frame.

Snakepit 2008 $5-8 (4 oz) Follow Ben's life through a transitional period, starting the year off with punks and puke and then mellowing out into watching TV and going to bed early. The way he lives his life may have changed, but the way he draws it is still the same honest, real, sloppy Snakepit that we all know and love.

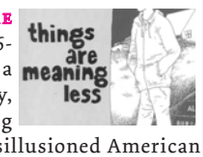
Snakepit: My Life in a Jugular Vein $12-18 (15 oz) This 288 pager collects years 4-6 of Ben Snakepit's 3-panel daily autobiographical comic. A partying, rock 'n' rolling record store clerk, Ben tours the world with his band J Church, drinks like a fish, goes to parties, and gets his heart broken over and over (when he's not breaking hearts himself!) The more you read, the more addictive it gets! Includes a CD comp of Ben's songs-of-the-day!

So Raw It's Downright Filthy $3 (3 oz) Let us not understate the might and magic of Joshua Ploeg's cooking. The dude's meals sparkle in your mouth; they burst and bloom; they explode and breakdance and pirouette! Joshua's the "traveling vegan chef" and he is—as we speak, no less!—touring the world making insane-in-the-membrane multi-course DIY meals at shows and dinner parties. A wonderful follow-up to his third cookbook, In Search of the Lost Taste, this brand-new zine is Joshua's take on raw food and it is lllllong awaited. Revel in the majesty of easy and cheap recipes like his Mushroom-Pear Salad with Five Spice. Give yourself a massive high five after fixin' up his pho (which is pho-king great!). Go bananas with his green curry, his incredible Shitakesbury Steak, his OMG-worthy raw Shepherd's Pie! No raw deals here!

Sounds of Your Name $12-22 (18 oz) Nate Powell's (Soophie Nun Squad) intricate black and white art focuses on the terrors and pleasures of growing up. Poignantly plumbing the existential angst of youth through drinking glass perspectives, he invokes great coming-of-age novels with only a few dozen words. This book collects self-published zines and comics dating back to 1992, his first two graphic novels (Tiny Giants and It Disappears), and new work. These stories build vignette by vignette into a rich tableau of lofty dreams and Deep South disappointment, car crashes and love letters, first kisses and four-tracks. A reminder of the persistence of wonder against all odds.

Support $3 (4 oz) In a time when sexual assault and abuse are an increasing problem (even in so-called radical and punk communities) and when most women have been sexually abused in one way or another, Cindy Crabb (Doris) shows ways to prevent sexual violence and be an ally to women and your friends. The zine helps to define consent, listening, talking about sex, and power dynamics. Comics by Fly! A crucial resource.

Things are Meaning Less $6-10 (7 oz) It's a tough, funny, heartbreaking look at young, disillusioned American life. You might know Al from his zine Burn Collector or the band Milemarker. This, however, is Al's collection of comics published in the late '90s. From Portland to Providence, Al patrols his world with a dark, stoic humor. He's a Saul Bellow-ian everyman, up against the wall, suffering the blows, looking for love, and loving the metal.



Unemployment $3 (2 oz) "There's nothing quite like the nagging doubt that accompanies a period of unemployment," begins the zine and for the next 44 pages Aaron brings us along on his dark journey into the heart of the failing American empire. Whether touching on the allegorical implications of the Spider-Man/Peter Parker character symbiosis, dreaming about a shameful meeting with a Christ-like CrimethInc author, or just roaming the recession-era streets, Aaron applies everything to the current economic slump and does so in prose that is tight, engaging, and downright hilarious.

Welcome to the Dahlhouse: Alienation, Incarceration, and Inebriation in the New American Rome $6-9 (5 oz) Collecting Ken Dahl's comics from 1997-2007 in a graphic novel anthology edition, this book includes hilarious, heartbreaking comics about airport security, getting arrested, the creative process of trying to write comics about "important" subjects, and much more. Additionally, we are treated to helpful pseudo-guides on putting bananas in your cereal (this one's so funny!), peeing in the shower, and swinging at night. An Ignatz Winner! Woo!

Wild Fermentation $5 (3 oz) A very literal guide, "A DIY Guide to Cultural Manipulation" is a great resource for learning to use the microbes around you. Wanna learn how to make your own sourdough? Miso? Injera (Ethiopian sourdough) bread?!!! It's in this handy dandy and super resourceful guide for fermenting in the comfort of your own home. Yummy home made sour cream! Buttermilk! Cheese and tempeh!!! Double and triple wow your friends and family with the helpful directions on how to ferment your own kimchi and other tasty, briny treats.

Xerography Debt #25-30 $3 ea. (4 oz) Xerography Debt is back with issue #25 featuring more of the beloved "review zine with perzine tendencies" wherein your favorite zine writers become zine reviewers, columnists, and news hounds! Sixty-four pages of new zines to fall in love with, collect obsessively, and tell your friends about. Note: They want more zines to review for future issues! We know you are out there! Send it to: Davida Gypsy Breier / PO Box 11064 / Baltimore, MD 21212

Xtra Tuf #5: The Strike Issue $5-8 (8oz) For years Moe Bowstern has brought the inside story of being a woman who fishes commercially, revealing much about the history of commercial fishing in Alaska through a very descriptive and personable narrative. Through her amazing storytelling, she details the crews she's been involved with, the dynamics of their relationships, and what it's like being a woman involved in a very male-dominated profession. Moe has a passion for fishing and the sea that she shares with you. This issue includes different episodes of labor disagreements and strikes that held up work over many years. It's fascinating reading as she combines her artistic and DIY sensibilities with labor tactics in order to achieve the fishermen's goals and get everyone back to work!

You Can Work Any 100 Hours Per Week That You Want (In Your Underwear) $2 (2 oz) The history of the first 10 years of Microcosm, told in graphic detail! For the first time ever, read about how we got where we are through working long hours at low (or no) pay! Join us on our journey through starting out in a bedroom, putting out records, growing, moving to Portland, publishing books, growing, moving into Liberty Hall, amassing more zines than anyone could ever know what to do with, and more! A fun foray into getting inspiration and perspective for making your own projects.

Zinester's Guide to New York City $9-12 (9 oz) In the tradition of our DIY city guide The Zinester's Guide to Portland, we're proud to announce our brand-new New York City version! The Zinester's Guide to NYC is a top-to-bottom, on-the-cheap, warts-and-all exploration of the city that never sleeps. Whether you're looking for scam-able coffee or a place to grab a Japanese breakfast, art supplies, volunteer opportunities, or a 4-story Korean bathhouse, the ZG2NYC has it all. "The best way to experience the city is to really participate in it," Ayun Halliday, the editor, says. "Why watch the parade when you can march in it? People should know that they can guest bartend, play bike polo in Sara Roosevelt Park, create a public park in a parking space on National Park(ing) Day, and submit the 5-minute movies they shoot on the boardwalk to next year's Coney Island Film Festival." Like our Portland guide, the pocket-size NYC book is divided into illustrated, user-friendly sections (Bars! Pizza! Historic buildings! Veggie options! Open mics! Craft supplies! The keys to low-budget NYC romance!) that give up the goods for first-timers and native New Yorkers alike.

Zinester's Guide to Portland $4-7 (5 oz) A comprehensive guide of things to do in Portland, OR. Features tons of information on various neighborhoods, bridges, eateries, hangouts, bars, places that sell zines, and how to navigate through Portland. A crucial resource for those visiting the city or those that have lived here for years. Illustrated throughout.

Zine Yearbook #9 $8-14 (14 oz) We took on the task of editing the Zine Yearbook and selecting some of the best writing and art from 2007 zines. We couldn't include everything we wanted, so we compromised and collected over 115 authors into this compendium; some whose zines we carry, and some whose zines we don't. You'll see some familiar faces as well as things you may not have heard of. There's also a heap of articles about zine libraries and other zine projects from North America and beyond.

Our Published DVDs

$100 & A T-Shirt: A documentary about zines in the Northwest US. $8-20 (4 oz) A cultural analysis of zines—interviews with about 70 zine-makers and readers from the northwest. Featuring footage of the Portland Zine Symposium and other activities bringing zine culture to life. The video sparks creativity and new interest into zine-making and reading for pros and novices.

Cantankerous Titles & Obscure Epehemera, #1 $5-20 (4 oz) A DVD collection of short documentaries by Joe Biel about bikes, trains, dogs, patches, and the board game RISK.

Homeland Insecurity $10-25 (3 oz) Bill Brown returns with three new films! The Other Side explores US/Mexico immigration issues and activist groups that supply water and rides to people crossing the border who get stranded or lost in the desert. Hub City is a short about Lubbock, TX— the home of Buddy Holly and trajectories of death and small towns. AA Trailer is a goofy short about the joy of film making for The Ann Arbor Film Festival.

If It Ain't Cheap, It Ain't Punk: D. un I. t Y. $12-18 (4 oz) Over the last sixteen years, Plan-it X Records helped foster a huge cultural revolution, uniting geographically divided DIY punk communities under one umbrella. This original documentary climaxes in the 2006 Plan-it X Festival where punks from all over the world met up in Bloomington, IN for a week of music and skillsharing. Unseen footage of This Bike is a Pipe Bomb, Japanther, Defiance, Ohio, Ghost Mice, One Reason, Operation: Cliff Clavin, Soophie Nun Squad, more!

Still We Ride $12-18 (5 oz) This action-packed documentary is a glimpse into the shocking showdown between the monthly Critical Mass ride and the New York City Police Department in the months after August, 2004. It is also a wake-up call to Americans, whether they ride bicycles or simply value the freedoms of speech and to peaceably assemble. On Friday August 27, 2004 just days before the start of the Republican National Convention, a massive police operation was underway. By the end of the night 264, people were arrested. It marked one of the largest mass arrests in New York City's history. But that was just the beginning! Still We Ride illustrates the climate of fear and resilience gripping NYC's cycling community amidst the ongoing monthly crackdowns.

X-Ray Visions $10-20 (7 oz) An in-depth account of one of the most important cultural epicenters in Portland's history, an ABC NO RIO/924 Gilman-esque "nightclub" that hosted bands like Green Day, Crash Worship, Nation of Ulysses, Neurosis, Everclear, Smegma, and Poison Idea. Did you ever wonder how Portland appeared on the map as THE epicenter for weird, alternative arts and culture? It was because of the X-Ray—an entirely unique all-ages

venue with a true "anything goes" aesthetic. The first hundred copies come with a bonus CD soundtrack of former X-Ray regular acts, including Hazel, Dead Moon, Big Daddy Meat Straw, New Bad Things, Unwound, Crackerbash, Frances Farmer Gals, and more!

Distributed Books and Zines

About My Disappearance #1-3 $2 ea (2 oz) For years, Dave Roche seemed invincible. He survived on a strict diet of free bread and vegan ice cream from fake coupons. After awhile, his health caught up with him though. This zine is about his onset and diagnosis with Crohn's Disease and how it has since affected his life.

Anarchism: Arguments for and Against book $4.75 (4 oz) A new revised and updated edition of the definitive pocket primer. From the historical background and justification of anarchism, to the class struggle, organization, and the role of an anarchist in an authoritarian society, this slim volume walks the reader through the salient points, theory, and practice of this much-maligned philosophy. Also addresses the gamut of objections and queries from Marxist-Leninists, liberal democrats, fascists, and the average person.

Anarchist Survival Guide for Understanding Gestapo Swine Interrogation Mind Games: Staying Free by Shutting the Fuck Up! $1 (1 oz) Just what the title says; what to do if being interrogated by the police!

Animal Ingredients A to Z $9 (4 oz) The bible for vegetarians, vegans, and caring consumers. More and more we find our everyday foods containing peculiar ingredients—many of which are animal-derived. As well as a comprehensive listing of animal ingredients, this contains supplemental information on vegan nutrition, food alternatives, and contact information for animal advocacy groups.

Another Dinner is Possible $19 (20 oz) A unique two-in-one cookbook and guide—featuring over 250 recipes of simple, cheap, and tasty food! Additional articles and guides set out to reconnect us with the food we eat, how food affects all levels of our lives, and how to better develop our relationship with what we eat! Recipes are designed to serve 2-6 people but also feature cooking for a large group and which recipes suitable for this. Printed on high quality glossy recycled paper and wire bound so it sits flat on your kitchen counter and the pages don't deteriorate. Super illustrated by Isy Morgenmuffel and one of our coolest cookbooks! Originally imported from England, now published by AK Press.

Ask First! $2 (2 oz) Cheyenne has compiled a zine of information about consent, preventing abusive relationships, and also dealing with existing abusive relationships. Includes suggestions for helping survivors communicate and feel heard, as well as information for those looking to productively deal with their own abusive situations. This is a complicated issue, and the basic concepts of listening, understanding, and support are dealt with in a clear way. Highly recommended for anyone looking to communicate more clearly with the people in their life.

Beginners Guide to Responsible Sexuality (For Men) $1 (1 oz) A brief look at a number of important questions facing heterosexual men who don't want to go along with sexist ideas about how to have sexual relationships. Why should women be the only ones thinking about this?

Bicycle Maintenance Manual $9 USED (16 oz) Sloane's manual is a new edition of the author's guide to purchasing, riding, and performing basic maintenance on bicycles. Eugene Sloane's book is considered the standard guide for bike shops and experts in the field who need a reference; or just for people who like to fix their bikes. Practices covered include keeping brakes and frame safe; adjusting derailleurs (including index systems); lubing and repacking bottom brackets, hubs, and headsets; caring for chains and freewheel, pedals, saddles, handlebars, cables, tires; and trueing and building wheels. We managed to score a lot of used copies so you could have a cheaper alternative and could avoid channeling money into multinational giants like Simon & Schuster/Viacom!

Big Hands #3-7 $2 (2 oz) Aaron is a little cynical about life, and yet he seems to really appreciate humanity. The stories in this zine are achingly nostalgic and yet still intelligently reflective. Big Hands epitomizes that hopeful stagnation of knowing what we want, and knowing this isn't it.

Big Sexy $6 (4 oz) Big Sexy is a collection of comics about sexy stuff. From the introduction: "A society's sexual art can reveal a lot about that society beyond the "basics" of what turns people on - which I think is why some of us have such difficulty finding pornography we can enjoy without reservations. Modern mainstream porn is porn of a sexist, racist, class-divided society. We want something better. The comics in this anthology express a variety of sexuality's many aspects: social, solitary, fantastic, realistic, straight, gay, serious, humorous, and more. What they share in common is their spirit. The artists have each drawn on their interests and values to bring us something positive. They have presented sex to us in ways that make sense to them. Together they present us something we hope is much more inclusive and enjoyable than the narrow visions so often sold to us as "sexy" - a Big Sexy, with room for everyone."

Bipedal, By Pedal! #2 $4 (3 oz) It's the second issue of the Expozine Award Winning Bipedal, By Pedal. For this issue legal documents were collected pertaining to the Portland Police Department's nefarious, illegal crackdown campaign on the local Critical Mass movement. Biel shows through once-secret police and court documents that Portland Critical Mass did not in fact die out, it was brutally torn down by the cops in an organized campaign of intimidation and spy work. A rally call for bike activists. If that isn't interesting enough, the documents are redone as Mad Libs. A companion piece to Biel's upcoming documentary, Aftermass: A Post Critical Mass Portland.

Brains #1 $2 (3 oz) Punks vs. Zombies! Straight-edge kids being devoured left and right! Portland's Police Chief is one of them! Has there ever been a more informative or relevant zine? Not one I've seen! Buy it so you can learn how to defend yourselves from the zombie hoard!

Brew Not Bombs $3 (2 oz) An excellent pamphlet from the intoxicated wing of Food Not Bombs. Includes tips on (of course) homebrewing, recipes for various alcoholic beverages, the history of beer, and an explanation of the philosophy, politics, and activism behind the noble art. Plus: a how-to on fundraising for anarchist organizations through brewing and selling your own beer!

Broken Hipster #1-3 $1 (1 oz) A heart-wrenching and intense story of Emiko's kidney failure and dialysis. Sickness, confusion, and not eating or sleeping turns into a nicely illustrated tale of problems and ways of dealing with it. A crucial kind of sharing for us to understand our bodies, health problems, and community support.

Cat's Claw Herbal $1 (2 oz) Heron is an herbalist. In this zine, the love of plants is shared through personal stories, drawings, and introductions to some favorites. Cat's Claw Herbal also includes easy to understand DIY instructions on how to make your own herbal salves.

Chord Easy $3 (3 oz) Brought to you by the makers of Dwelling Portably, details how to understand playing guitar for a beginner featuring chord combinations and sample songs to learn and increase your ability!

Civilization Will Eat Itself $2 (3 oz) Check out the computer geek who thinks that computers are the downfall of society. An entirely handwritten account from a primitivist point of view about utilizing technology while realizing the contradiction; society imposing work and school upon us; and the way Romans at the end wrote history as if their empire wasn't about to crumble. Maybe they didn't realize it or maybe they were trying to prevent the public from realizing it. Are we about to be overtaken by metaphorical Visigoths?

Come Hell or Highwater $7.50 (4 oz) For individuals navigating the world of egalitarian directly democratic groups. From their experiences working with egalitarian and anarchist organizations, the authors offer a street-level view of how social relationships and power work. Lessons are learned and hindsight is 20/20, and Come Hell or High Water offers readers both in this little gem. It's a tough world out there; it's a world that doesn't prepare us for developing social relationships based on trust, caring, and solidarity—as well as a healthy respect for differences.

Cometbus #49-53 $3 (4 oz) Very instrumental and influential in shaping zine-making today. Aaron has an amazing ability to explain and glamorize things—making things like sex in a dumpster sound like something to seek out! He turns broken bones and horrible injuries into a great metaphor for appreciating life. Aaron also has a mini book, Mixed Reviews for $3

Community Bike Cart Design $2 (3 oz) A comprehensive, convincing guide to building your own bike cart or trailer—obtaining materials, design, welding or bolting the whole thing together, weight capacity, hitches, and answers for the fundamental question: Why build a bike cart? A true tool to help more people reach car independence and find more joy in the process.

Cook Food $7.50 (6 oz) Lisa Jervis, founding editor of Bitch magazine, has written a primer to eating locally and sustainably. Cook Food is a simple introductory guide to eating more nutritionally, with a focus on affordability and veganism to boot! It includes basic cooking tips, and easy to prepare recipes for anyone looking to change their diet for the better. With recipes for 'simple garlicky greens' and 'peanut sauce', it's definitely for beginners looking to learn about having a healthier diet.

Counterbalance: Thoughts on Activism and Mental Health $4 (3 oz) Author Kristi wants to know why activists always seem to burn out mentally, and why they chose to disappear from activist communities. What in our communities keeps us from sticking with it? What makes us withdraw and then afraid to come back? Supposedly we have supportive communities to help us deal with mental health issues, but what does that mean exactly? Do we really? This zine presents some questions and discussions to get your mind working around these ever prevalent issues.

Craphound #4, 7 $12 ea. (7 oz) In case you missed it the first time around, Craphound, A Picture Book for Discussion and Activity is, between a brief introduction and the end credits, pure imagery. Each page is filled with high-contrast line art, culled from vintage catalogs, advertising, obscure books, and found ephemera. Perfect for zine-makers, graphic designers, tattoo artists, or just someone who needs a specific, perfect image.

Cuntastic #1: A Journal of Sexual and Reproductive Freedom $4 (2 oz) Cuntastic #1 is the placenta issue and includes Swollen: Moments from a Pregnancy, A Home Birth at the Hospital, and Illegal Placentas about a raid on a Miami health center which was distributing dried placenta capsules to patients. Placentophagy is an article about mammals who eat the placenta of their young. There are placenta recipes, and even a placenta collage centerfold. It's placentastic!

Cuntastic #2: The Menstruation Issue $4 (2 oz) This issue of Cuntastic is bloody fabulous! It's the menstruation issue! Some pieces, like "My Painful Relationship with Tampons" and "The Evils of Disposable Menstrual Products" will have you seeing red. Alternative forms of period catching are reviewed, like The Keeper, Sea Pearls, and Moon Pads. One mom writes about "Mothering a Newly Menstruating Girl," and another woman explains how Depo-Provera changed her cycle. There are also birth stories, a story about earning your red wings, and another of Cuntastic's famous collages featuring a bunch of tampons used as weapons.

Cut and Paint #1-2 $3, $4 (5 oz) Stencil templates! Yes! Includes brief instructions as well as designs that are artistically and politically motivated. Beautiful artwork with adaptable messages from Icky Apparatus, Erik Ruin, Colin (Ideas in Pictures), Josh MacPhee, and more!

Dames on Frames #1 $2.50 (2 oz) #2-4 $2 (1oz) Dames on Frames calls itself a feminist bike zine, and it strives to articulate the places in which feminism and bike culture overlap.

The Darkness to the West $2 (1 oz) From the author of the Powell's Books bestseller Hymn California, Adam Gnade's novella zine, The Darkness to the West, is about a world falling apart and the things we can do to hold it back together. Over the course of 42 pages, Gnade's characters break into nature preserves, try to use The Force, shoot beer cans off each other's heads William Tell-style, and threaten the neighbors with an official Indiana Jones movie prop bullwhip. It's a story about getting rowdy to ditch the bummer-times. Set mainly in the South, the book begins with its main character James on a self-imposed exile and from there, it's a race away from social anxiety and into adventure. This is a celebratory jam in the face of blues and danger.

Day of War, Nights of Love $10 (14 oz) An exploded manifesto that might be just what you need. The type of book you'd thumb through in the store and want to buy (or steal). Topics range from anarchy to hierarchy, work to sex, alienation to liberation, and technology, but every page burns with a passion for a freer life.

Despite Everything: The Cometbus Omnibus $16.95 (32 oz) The long awaited collection novel of nearly 50 issues of Cometbus across 20 years. What more can be said except that Cometbus is THE classic amongst zines. This tome only makes that more clear as you can reread all of the indispensable stories again or for the first time, and get that familiar warm feeling that trickles down your body. Now in its third printing!

Double Duce $7.95 (8 oz) Double Duce is a reprinted, repackaged version of Cometbus #42, a novel from Aaron Cometbus. His characters ponder life's mundane questions with the seriousness of ancient philosophers: How to get by on no money, where to scam free photocopies, and the finer points of dumpster diving are the subjects of endless conversations. Also check out Despite Everything, also published by Last Gasp.

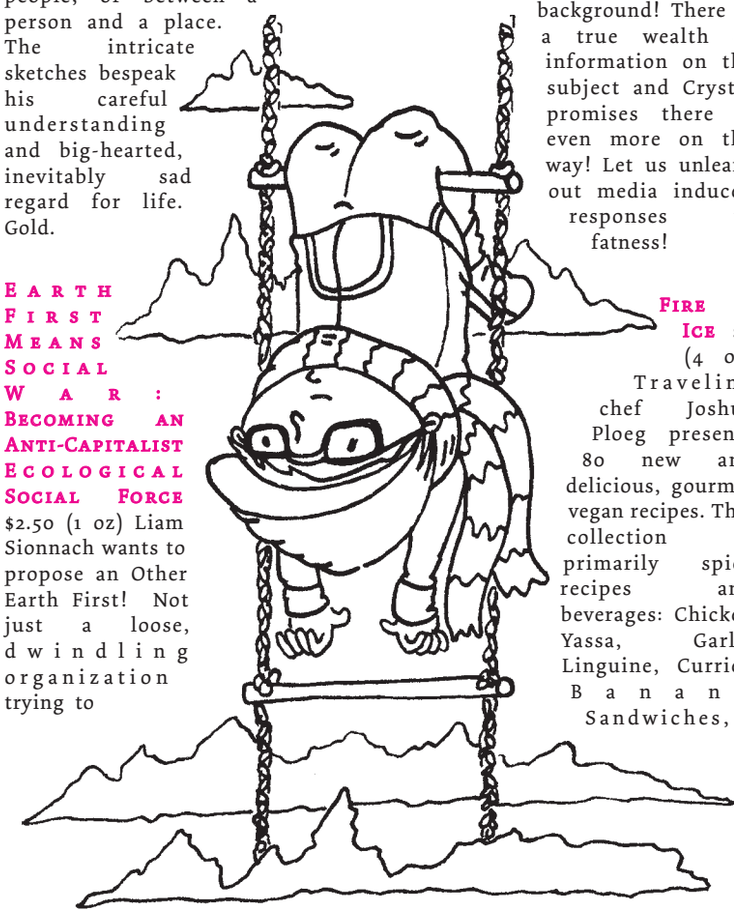
Dreamwhip #11-13 $4 ea. (7 oz) So much magic awaits in the pages of this fat, rubber-banded, handwritten hand-size art object. With an eye for architecture and for nature's malevolent motives (a body of water is "homicidal," the wind is "wanted for murder"), Bill bears an understanding of the ineffable, the borderline-eerie, of what can pass invisibly between people, or between a person and a place. The intricate sketches bespeak his careful understanding and big-hearted, inevitably sad regard for life. Gold.

Earth First Means Social War: Becoming an Anti-Capitalist Ecological Social Force $2.50 (1 oz) Liam Sionnach wants to propose an Other Earth First! Not just a loose, dwindling organization trying to define itself in an era of greenwashing and eco-catch phrases, but a social force with which to be reckoned. Liam lays out a vision for an Earth First entrenched in a social war for liberation and against capitalism and eco-fascism. This zine calls for a redefinition of 'we' and a new context for struggle. This is a zine for those that fight for social and ecological liberation and embrace a dialog that seeks who best to achieve our goals. Even if you don't agree with everything that is said, by reading these words (and reading them again), you will more intimately know what it is you are fighting for... and how best to fight for it.

Fat is Beautiful $2 (4 oz) A collection of thoughts, articles, and reprints about America's fat-phobic, sizism and pointing us toward fat acceptance. This is a beautiful jumping off point for those interested in the subject - articles from Marilyn Wann about embracing yourself and reclaiming the word fat, personal health, some thoughts about the learning (and unlearning) processes of fat acceptance, numerous surprising facts, historical quotes about fatness, as well as an excerpt from Nomy Lamm's Big Fat Revolution, as well as information about fat women being more likely to enjoy sex even! A fat liberation manifesto! Statistics of fat women based on their class background! There is a true wealth of information on the subject and Crystal promises there is even more on the way! Let us unlearn out media induced responses to fatness!



Fire & Ice $2 (4 oz) Traveling chef Joshua Ploeg presents 80 new and delicious, gourmet vegan recipes. This collection is primarily spicy recipes and beverages: Chicken Yassa, Garlic Linguine, Curried Banana Sandwiches, numerous alcoholic drink recipes, and more!

Fireweed: A Zine of Grassroots Radical Herbalism and Wild Foods Connecting With Kids and Family Life $3.50 (3 oz) Fireweed, as the full title implies, is all about introducing your kids to plants. It's about teaching young children the joy of gathering edibles, and making them into candies, teas, jellies, or even medicines. There's tips for going on plant walks, and suggestions for good introductory plants like ginger, mint, and marshmallow. There are recipes for prickly pear crisp, catnip tea, and simple fermented herbal infusions. The authors conduct a couple interviews with parents about their experiences sharing plants with their children. Overall, this zine is really inspiring.

Firewood #1 $1 (2 oz) I felt better as soon as I opened this first issue of Firewood, a zine focusing on "making your own music, art, culture, life." I was ready to join the revolution before I even got past the intro. Serious, complete articles on how to build your own cabin, grow your own Anarchist Victory Garden, and more.

Found #1-5 $4.95 (13 oz) Davy Rothbart publishes letters, notes, leaflets and other effluvia gathered from the streets of cities and towns across America. While some might see it as trash, every page provides both humorous and poignant glimpses into the life of strangers in an accidental, random, yet beautiful way. Rothbart and his little brother collected most of the found materials for the first issue of the magazine. The three follow up issues are filled with submissions sent in by strangers from all over the country. Rothbart's recent tours across the country have inspired other enthusiastic scavengers, who now scan the sidewalks in search of found treasures to send in to the magazine.

Free to Choose $2 (2 oz) Not just another pro-choice zine; this is an introduction to the history of underground abortion and a call to learn our history and to take matters into our own hands. It includes some information on menstrual extraction and a list of resources to learn more.

Friends Make the Best Medicine $2 (2 oz) In this Guide to Creating Community Mental Health Support Networks, the Icarus Project gives a how to on creating safe spaces to talk about mental illness. It's a detailed guide on how to organize and hold a gathering, organizing public events, discussion questions to get everyone talking in workshops and groups, and an overview on mutual aid. The Icarus Project wants to drive home the point that "you are not alone" and this zine provides tangible ideas for working together to explore our mental health.

Frugal Vegan's Harvest and Holiday $3.50 (5 oz) A gigantic cookbook from Montreal spilling over with exciting recipes for people without a lot of cash. Recipes for food, non-food, and even gifts! Plus, articles to help you through those winter months when you`re cold and broke.

The Frugal Vegan's Holiday Harvest Survival Guide #2 $3.50 (4 oz) The sequel to the original Holiday Harvest Survival Guide! Features drinks, entrees, soups, desserts, and a jumbo section about celebrating Valentine's Day on the cheap! Write poems, make lip gloss, soaps and bubble baths, watch movies, bake cookies, and more, while avoiding commercialized holidays and doing it yourself.

The Frugal Vegan's Spring and Summer Survival Guide $3 (4 oz) Another gigantic cookbook for people without a lot to spend. Recipes for food, non-food, and even gift ideas! There's spring cleaning tips, cheap entertainment, making earrings and magnets, yard sales, dandelion wine, and raw foods. Tons and tons of money-saving notions that you can use every day!

Genderfailz #1 $2 (1 oz) Alix is a transguy struggling against a limited and restrictive healthcare system. Genderfailz #1 is written about his struggle with depression while he waits to be assessed for hormone therapy. The tedious shuffle of bureaucracy is almost too much to bear, and when his appointment finally arrives, Alix discovers that the one gender specialist in Alberta may not agree with his choices. Genderfailz explores the area between and outside of male and female, and shows through first-hand experience just how limiting gender can be.

A Gentrification Reader $3 (6 oz) Gentrification is when local, usually lower-income, families are uprooted from the neighborhoods where they reside so that higher-income folks can come in and get cheap real estate, fix it up, and take over. This zine is a compilation of articles from other publications on gentrification that has occurred and is occurring in various cities, including New York, New Orleans, Portland, Chicago, and London.

Girl/Boy #2, #4 $3 (4 oz) Robnoxious teams up with Shyla Ann to talk about gender roles, sex (homosexual and otherwise), pornography, alternatives to tampons/pads, subtle school lessons, polyamory, male intuition, homosexuality and homophobia, confronting sexism, rape in prison, and TONS more!

Girls Are Not Chicks $7.50 (3 oz) A coloring book combating gender stereotypes! There are enough books that make girls think that they are not any good or that boys only play with soldiers. This time we are taught that girls take pride in themselves and boys can enjoy cooking and cleaning. Girls are thinkers, creators, fighters, healers, and superheroes.

Go Fuck Yourself $2 (2 oz) A pro-sex, trans-friendly DIY sex toy making guide; reusing scraps like inner tubes and how to make everything from restraints to strap-ons to whips, dildos, tit clamps, and even a detailed instruction of how to make a tit/clit pump from an auto brake bleed kit!

Greenblooded: An Introduction to Eco-Friendly Feminine Hygiene $2 (1 oz) There are plenty of "how to make your life more green" resources out there, but what's a topic that they tend to avoid? Greener ways of handling your period! This nonfiction mini gives you the basics of several eco-friendly alternative products as well as facts about the menstrual cycle and discussion about why this is a relevant issue. Appropriate for teens and up, lots of little cartoons and jokes, good reading for girls and guys alike!

Greenwoman #1-5 $3 (3 oz) A zine edited by a woman who really loves gardening for those that also love to escape in the garden.

Guerilla Greywater Girls Guide to Water $4 (5 oz) Some brief history of rivers, dams, water power, water. A DIY permaculture guide to "harvesting" rainwater, conserving water, and channeling waste water into more functional purposes than just sending it down the drain.

A Guide to Picking Locks #1 $6 (4 oz), #2 $4 (3 oz) Written by an experienced locksmith, and illustrated with a nice assortment of diagrams, this giant zine will guide you through the different types of locks one might encounter and the best tools and techniques for picking them. With an emphasis on making your own lock tools, you might be surprised when this kind of practical information comes in handy!

Harlot RN $2 (1 oz) Megan decided to become an RN for a variety of reasons, and she'll give you a different answer depending on her mood. Initially she wanted to be a midwife, and ended up instead becoming an RN. She also wants to provide care to people, and as a proponent of DIY culture, wants to feel like she has the ability to help others. In this zine, she has to really examine what helping and care mean as she routinely encounters restrains and sedatives. How does free will balance out against what is best for a patient? How does one determine what is best? A personal look into nursing.

Harm Reduction to Coming Off Psychiatric Drugs $5 (3 oz) This zine was created by the Icarus Project. It's a guide to the realities of psychiatric drug use, including longterm side effects, how they work, and what they do to your brain. It includes info on mood stabilizers, anti-psychotics, anti-depressants, anti-anxiety drugs, risks, benefits, wellness tools, withdrawal, detailed Resource section, information for people staying on their medications, and much more. A 'harm reduction approach' means not being pro- or anti-medication, but supporting people to make their own decisions balancing the risks and benefits involved. A good resource for anyone considering going on meds. Written by Will Hall, with a 14-member health professional advisory board providing research assistance and 24 other collaborators involved in developing and editing. The guide has photographs and art throughout, and a beautiful original cover painting by Ashley McNamara.

Henry & Glenn Forever $6 (3 oz) Starring musclebound punk & metaldudes Glenn Danzig and Henry Rollins, it's a love story to end all love stories! Ultra-metal violence and cryfest diary entries, cringing self-doubt and mega-hilarious emo-meltdowns. Who knew Danzig was such a vulnerable, self-conscious sweety-pie? Who knew Rollins was such a caring spouse? 66 fully-illustrated pages with genius on all fronts. Terrifyingly cute. Cutely terrifying. As the real-life Rollins says, "Has Glenn seen this? Trust me, he would not be impressed."

Herbal First Aid $1 (1 oz) A guide to using plants in your environment for their medicinal properties! Cute illustrations from Giovanni Caputo and a generally fun vibe and feel! Includes healing cuts and scrapes, burns, rashes, sunburns, building a first aid kit, gut problems, aches and pains, bugs, bruises, bleeding, parasites, and further reading!

Hey, Look! It's a Zine About Cross Stitch $2 (1 oz) A very cute introduction to cross stitch! It explains the supplies you'll need and the basic method for turning your images into a cross stitch to be proud of. Author Autumn shares tips for making your own patterns and provides some patterns you can use to get started, including a cat and cookie themed one that says, "I Made You A Cookie, But I Eated It." Autumn also provides info for uploading patterns to KnitPro and web addresses of cross-stitch related sites.

Home Composting Made Easy $4 (2 oz) This is apparently the world's most popular compost guide! It's a little zine with step by step instructions and answers to your most common questions, such as: Why should I compost in the first place? Can I include manure? And how exactly does one go about vermicomposting? This zine is bright, colorful, and accessible for anyone and everyone who has an interest in creating less waste.

Hot Pantz: Do It Yourself Gynecology $3 (3 oz) This classic and crucial guide to women's health is just as useful as it was the day it was released. It features a well-organized resource with a clear index of health problems along with remedies and a glossary of herbs and their properties. Very handy to share with a friend in need.

HPV $2 (3 oz) This thorough zine addresses issues surrounding HPV (human papillomavirus), a virus which is estimated to infect 80% of sexually active individuals at some point in their lives. In reaction to seeing the virus pop up in their own lives and observing the limited available and consistent information on HPV, they compiled their findings. The zine describes the virus, the way it is diagnosed, conventional and herbal treatments, their opinions on the new HPV vaccine, and much much more! An excellent resource!

Identity Crisis $7 (7 oz) A series of interviews with Northwest punks about their identities, and what being punk means to them. The interviewees run the gamut of the more scene famous (Chris Bauermeister of Jawbreaker and Nomy Lamm), to folks that were recommended by friends of the author. What makes this examination of punk culture so exciting though, is that the editor acknowledges long-standing patterns in the punk community and encourages subjects to discuss these trickier issues.

Jane: Documents From Chicago's Clandestine Abortion Service 1968-1973 $2 (3 oz) Several documents by these fabulous women talking about the group's illegal activities: learning how to perform abortions, teaching themselves and others the skill, and ultimately providing abortions and support for thousands of women in the Chicago area.

The Juniper $0.50 (1 oz) The adventures of slow living! Dan outlines a primer on green roofs-talking about why they are important and the different ways they are implemented, some info on storing vegetable seeds, and the healing attribute of dandelion.

Just So You Know $5 (2 oz) Joey Alison Sayers' minicomic about transitioning. She takes us through the last 6 years of her life, from telling her parents, to taking hormones, to coming out to her partner. Just So You Know is something special. Joey has a wonderful sense of humor that shines through in every panel. She's got the kind of charm and heart that makes you want to cheer her on.

Make Your Own Damn Alcohol $1 (1 oz) Easy, cheap, and DIY ways to make alcohol at home! Making your own can be fun and rewarding; few things are as satisfying as opening a bottle of beer that you made yourself and it's cheaper to make your own than to buy it.

Mamaphiles #1-3 $5 ea (7 oz) The mother of all zines, a huge collection of writings by mothers about birth! Over 30 contributors, all whom make their own zines about mothering. Featuring: Ariel Gore, Bee Lavender, Rhonda Baker, Ayun Halliday, Noemi Martinez, Rosa Maria, and many more!

Memoirs of a Queer Hapa #2 $2 (1 oz) This is a must read for those that wish to challenge the definitions of identity that are forced upon us our entire lives. Jackie is a radical mixed-race Queer person in a world that prefers easily classified identities. In this second issue of Memoirs of a Queer Hapa, she writes about finding love and worth - of self and within activist communities. She also writes about being a product of language and history, the emergence of Queer Hapa identity (or anti-identity) in the U.S., and the notion of home.

Monsters $18 (11 oz) Monsters is the latest graphic novel by Ken Dahl, author of the Microcosm published title Welcome to the Dahlhouse. Monsters is a semi-autobiographical story about Ken contracting Herpes, and slowly letting it take over his life. Self-deprecating by nature, the virus inside him makes him feel like even more of a monster. The reader learns along with Ken about what it means to be a carrier, and how it impacts every aspect of his life, especially romantically. As anyone who's read Dahlhouse knows, Ken is an incredible talent, and this book was much awaited here at Microcosm.

Ms. Films Guide $8 (7 oz) A motivational tool for women wanting to make film or video. Contents include camera-less filmmaking, super 8 basics, animation, DIY drive-ins, organizing your own film festivals, and a list of resources.

Murder Can Be Fun #11-20 $2 ea. (3 oz) John Marr is apparently obsessed with death! Each issue is packed with obscure and gory details. Issue #20 is (finally) a reprint of issue #13, Death at Disneyland! This is a new expanded version that's twice as long, with updates on the not-so-magic kingdom. Issue #20 also features an obscure collection of John Marr's freelance work for other magazines. If you can't help but marvel at the macabre, or find humor in the heinous, then pick up a copy Murder Can Be Fun.

My Baby Rides the Short Bus: The Unabashedly Human Experience of Raising Kids With Disabilities $15 (18 oz) In lives where there is a new diagnosis or drama every day, the stories in this collection provide parents of "special needs" kids with a welcome chuckle, a rock to stand on, and a moment of reality held far enough from the heart to see clearly. Featuring works by "alternative" parents who have attempted to move away from mainstream thought--or remove its influence altogether—this anthology, taken as a whole, carefully considers the implications of parenting while raising children with disabilities.

My Every Single Thought: What I Think About Being Single $5 (2 oz) Corinne Mucha has illustrated an honest confessional about her every single thought. Literally, every thought she had about being single after a break-up. Being single is such a rollercoaster, and Corinne humorously takes us along for the ride. This comic is much like her others, witty and insightful, and if you're looking for a zine to help mend your broken heart, then this is highly recommended.

My Time Annihilator: A Brief History of 1930's Science Fiction Fanzines $1 (1 oz) Shakes, of Olly Olly Oxen Free zine, stumbled upon an old Science Fiction fanzine index at the Philadelphia public library and was inspired to write this zine, a brief history of 1930's fanzines.

Natural Disaster book $15 (11 oz) Al collects Burn Collector #10-13 as well as Natural Disasters #1 and 2 and a teeny bit from Punk Planet. His book features some of the most solid writing you'll encounter in zines; employing foreshadowing, characters, irony, recurring themes, and metaphor; making an excellent read.

Navigating the Space zine $9 (9 oz) A product built from the many stories of the amazing members of The Icarus Project. Assembled beautifully with jagged pieces of a collective experience, the lessons and scars create an atlas of alternative maps to the particular breed of madness that gets called bipolar, and the ways people are making it through.

New to Everything #8 $1 (1 oz) Leanne is the author of New to Everything, a long-running perzine. Typed in cursive on a typewriter, New to Everything is about Leanne's deepest hopes and dreams. In Frog Pond, Leanne perfectly captures the feeling of the journey as the destination. In Triumph, she explains her early fear of motorcycles, and how she's grown to accept them. R.D. is about listening to an oldies DJ late at night, and Birthday on a Boat is about turning 25 and staying punk.

Next Stop Adventure #1-4 $2 (2 oz) Matt takes his too-small-for-him bicycle, packs it with a bunch of bananas, a jar of dumpstered organic peanut butter, a camera, no sleeping bag, and hits the open road. Read about Matt's trials and tribulations, peppered throughout with drawings.

Nontoxic Housecleaners $1 (1 oz) How to clean your house while avoiding gross and dangerous chemicals! You get: a lesson about the value of DIY cleaning; basic ingredients; some sample cleaners; and cleaners for various surfaces.

Not Your Mother's Meatloaf: A Sex Education Comic $3 (3 oz) A compilation of comics by a bunch of cool ladies, all about their perspectives on sex and sexuality. People talk about noticing their bodies for the first time, loving their bodies, and not loving their bodies. There are drawings of basic anatomy, a section on alternate menstrual products, and a story about one woman's trip to the gynecologist where she was tricked into providing her contact information to her doctor, only to have him harass her later. Also, defining virginity, loving yourself, unplanned pregnancy, growing up Catholic, the fetishization of Asian women, abusive relationships, and drunken hook-ups. So much is covered, it's a great read.

Off the Map $5 (5 oz) A punk rock vision quest told in the tradition of the anarchist travel story. Narrated by two young women as they discard their maps, fears, and anything resembling a plan, and set off on the winds of the world. Wandering across Europe, the dozens of vignettes are the details of the whole: a squatted castle surrounded by tourists on the Spanish coast, a philosophizing businessman on the highways of France, and much more!

Olly Olly Oxen Free #4 $1 (1 oz) Shakes and Twitch have collected the instructions to a bunch of classic dice games, like Hot Dice, Aces, Craps, and Bunko. There are 13 games in all, all typed out with loving care on their typewriter.

On Being Hard Femme $1 (1 oz) Jackie made this little zine about what "hard femme" means to her. She talks about her desire to wear dresses and get dirty, and how hard femme gives her the identity to do both of those things at once. She's tired of the butch/femme dichotomy, and this is an attempt to shake that up.

Out of the Closets and Into the Libraries $2 (2 oz) A primer on some important moments in queer history. Including the Queer Liberation Army, the Lesbian Avengers, Queer Nation, the Combahee River Collective, the Queercore music movement, Stonewall, the George Jackson Brigade, Out of Control, The Pink Panthers, and others.

Papercutter #1,4, $3 and #6-15 $4 (3 oz) The acclaimed new anthology series by Tugboat Press dedicated to showcasing the best young, underexposed, and emerging comic book artists.

Play It, Make It $1 (1 oz) Why pay to play games? Play It, Make It is a simple guide to DIY games you can play with friends. All that you need to play these punk parlor games is some friends, a minimum of materials, and kickass creativity. Eight games are outlined in the zine (including sample cards for one about dinosaurs racing toward extinction) and they give the foundation for making up your own. Or, as suggested in the zine, "CREATE YOUR CULTURE AND WRITE ME ABOUT YOUR GAMES!" Awesome!

The Prison Industrial Complex and the Global Economy $2.25 (2 oz) Contrary to popular belief, the U.S. prison system isn't a rehabilitative step to a safer world, or an altruistic desire to impart morality for the sake of a better society. This pamphlet exposes the ongoing plot of the prison system to lock up those who don't fall in line, exploit their labor, and force them into cruel living conditions, all for the sake of massive profits.

Radical Brewing $19.95 (26 oz) Veteran brewer, AHA Board of Advisor, and creative genius, Randy Mosher, delivers an entertaining look at beer history and culture along with a no-nonsense approach to the art of innovative brewing. 350 pages, including 90 complete recipes and an abundance of useful information for the novice as well as the grizzled veteran. The secrets of great session ales, lagers, and easy-to-brew Belgian beers; strong beers, adjunct beers, fruits, spices, smoked beer, mad and honey beers. Lavishly illustrated and full of fascinating tidbits of brewing lore.

Radical Mycology $4 (3 oz) There's a fungus-among-us...in the form of Radical Mycology zine! This zine is a mushroom primer, focused mostly on the Pacific Northwest, and contains a wild mushroom identification guide. This is a good time to point out that you should be very careful with wild edibles always! And you should not eat anything you can't positively ID!! Moving on, this zine is a hefty one. Besides profiles on 11 different mushrooms, it contains info on medicinals, cultivation, making mushroom dyes and paper, bioremediation using mushrooms, and a little history on psilocybin-containing mushrooms. There are even mushroom jokes. This zine is really well put together.

Railroad Semantics #2-4 $6 ea. (5 oz) A zine devoted to trainhopping and train culture. Aaron describes his summer riding between Portland and Northern California in near poetic detail. Between the exhausting waits in sparse canyons, and breezy sunny rides into Eugene, Aaron manages to make riding trains sound like a grand adventure. Aaron has also included some interesting local articles about the railroads including: shipping trash to landfills by train, Junction City's lawsuit against the rail company, and a landslide. And this zine is absolutely full of photographs! Lots of pictures of hobo graffiti, scenic vistas, trains, and crusties!

The Rainbow Connection: Richard Hunt, Gay Muppeteer $7 (4 oz) A heap of information about the life of Richard Hunt, a Muppet puppeteer who worked on Sesame Street, Fraggle Rock, and a myriad of other Henson projects. Richard began his work with Muppets at 18, and continued on until his death from AIDS in 1992. It's a celebration of Richard Hunt's career, and his contribution to the world through his work.

Rambo 3.5 $2 (1 oz) A quirky, humorous comic in which George W. Bush realizes his only hope of keeping freedom free lies in Rambo. The two team up to flex their muscles, shoot guns, and eat tacos together. This zine is semi-factual, and based off of Rambo 3, and also on George W. Bush's stint as a pretty crappy president. This reminds me of an SNL skit that's actually funny.

Recipes for Disaster: An Anarchist Cookbook $15 (30 oz) Over thirty collectives collaborated in testing, composing, and editing the book's 624 pages and 62 sections, which range from Affinity Groups, Coalition Building and Mental Health to Sabotage, Squatting, and Wheatpasting. These are illustrated with extensive technical diagrams and first-hand accounts, and prefaced with a thorough discussion of the diverse roles direct action can play in social transformation.

Reclaiming Our Ancient Wisdom $5 (4 oz) Herbal abortion procedures and practice for midwives and herbalists! A guide for practiced herbalists and midwives to better serve the women of their communities. Beautifully illustrated with botanical drawings from *Gerard's Herba*l and other early texts. The time is now for us to learn from lost and forgotten knowledge that was once so basic and common. Eberhardt brings us another pamphlet about abortion history at a time when such knowledge is so critical and important.

Revolutionary Women Stencil Zine $2.50 (3 oz) Black-and-white stencils of twelve revolutionary women, along with some nice biographical backgrounds. You should be able to use these images to make your own zines, t-shirts, patches, buttons, etc. or better yet, use this zine as an inspiration to create your own more visual images honoring these heroic, often overlooked women from history.

Rigor Mortis #1-3 $3 (3 oz) A thorough look at zombies in popular culture, in the form of movie reviews, book reviews, and comparative essays.

Rocket Queen #1 $2, #2 $2.50 (3 oz) Rocket Queen is back in print. Possibly one of the best, most insightful zines ever written, Rocket Queen is author Janet's tale of working as a dancer in Asheville, NC. Janet examines all the reasons why someone would want to dance for money, and her own motivations for doing so. It's all told in a matter of fact style that doesn't demonize stripping, and doesn't romanticize it either.

Scam #5 1/2 $2, #6 $3 (5 oz) Erick has shown us over the years that you can resist capitalism and have fun and a sense of humor. He seems preoccupied with the passage of time and articulating an affirmative vision of the type of society he'd like to live in and fight for. He talks about public art, squats, free breakfast programs, illegal peace demos in San Francisco, punk holidays, a booklist, and spotlights on community activists.

The Secret Files of Captain Sissy #4 $3 (4 oz) This issue of Andy's zine would be one of my highest recommendations in the distro. It is manifesto after manifesto just dripping with passion and information. He has amazing abilities in the use of language. His ability to articulate thoughts I've had for years is amazing. He tackles issues he's handled like carpentry unions, women's issues, punk as a subculture, the Columbine shootings (best take on this I've read), combining background of punk rocker with academic, self image/sexuality/gender issues, and tons more. No ads, no filler, just information. Andy is brilliant and we just can't get enough from him. Two of my friends are actually sending this to their parents as a way of explaining their lives.

Seeds: An Anthology of Comics about Food $5 (3 oz) Seeds collects comics about food from 18 different people. Some people address food production, like the harvesting of syrup, large scale agriculture, or where the meat you eat comes from. Others address the meaning of food in their lives. Includes comics by Matthew Reidsma of High Maintenance Machine zine, and Dan Archer of What a Whopper zine. This zine also comes with a free organic seed packet!

Shithole $3.50 (3 oz) Corinne's hilarious comics about her very first apartment. It, like all first apartments, was a journey embarked upon with the best of intentions. The dishes would always be clean, and the 7 roommates would always be busy doing creative things and working part time. Of course, it doesn't take long for the passive aggressive notes to appear on the fridge and all the plants to die. An accurate account of young communal life!

Shotgun Seamstress #1 $2 (3 oz) #2-3 $3 (3 oz) Shotgun Seamstress is one helluva zine. It's punk and life through the lens of Osa, a queer woman of color living in Portland. It's got a little bit of everything, including a piece on Go-go music in D.C, and the "Black Punk Zine That Never Happened." It's a zine by and for black punks, queers, misfits, feminists, artist/musicians, weirdos, and the people who support them.

Show and Tell #5, #7, #8 $3 (2 oz) A cute hand-drawn style, most similar to Nicole Georges or Erin Tobey. Rachel, the author, draws comics about all the stuff she does. They're mostly tiny anecdotes about her day to day life, including sleeping next to farting boyfriends and accidentally stealing copies. She provides instructions for a cool sounding art project involving transferring images onto strips of tape, as well as a recipe for what she claims is the best curry ever. Also in this issue, Rachel wrote about the passing of her cat, and drew a comic about freaking out in a Cost-Co.

Slave to the Needles #1-3 $3 (4 oz) Did you say that you love knitting? Well, we just found the zine for you! Aimee is clearly very attached to her hobby and gives you a cultural forum to read about other people who are interested/obsessed with sewing, knitting, and crafting! Plus patterns, comics about knitting, and how-to articles.

Sneakier Uses For Everyday Things $12 (9 oz) There are 40 new educational and unique projects that anybody can successfully complete with simple household items, including necessary materials, detailed sketches, and step-by-step instructions for each gadget and gizmo. Among the sneaky schemes are: Create an electroscope out of a glass jar; turn a drinking cup into a speaker; use an AM radio as a metal detector; and make a spy gadget jacket with over 20 individual sneaky uses ranging from a siren and whistle to a walkie-talkie and voice recorder!

Sober Living for the Revolution $17.50 (16 oz) Straight edge has persisted as a drug-free, hardcore punk subculture for 25 years. Its political legacy, however, remains ambiguous. History, interviews, essays, and manifestos by numerous artists and activists connected to straight edge, from Ian MacKaye and Mark Andersen to Dennis Lyxzén and Andy Hurley.

Soy Not Oi $5.50 (7 oz) 111 pages of recipes designed to help vegans or vegetarians who have not-so-healthy eating habits to find things that are both tasty and good for a growing or adult body. A classic! Every kitchen needs one!

Survival Without Rent $2.50 (4 oz) Originally published in 1986, this was revised and expanded in 1989. It's a booklet intended to help people take back the homes that have been taken away from them by government and business. Dedicated to Eleanor Bumpurs and to the East Fifth Street Squat, it's a step by step guide to setting up a squat from a perspective of living in New York City. It's broken down into chapters including how to form a group, finding a building, getting in, emergency repairs, lights, heat, fire safety, makeshift toilets, and legal hassles. It includes some fantastic illustrations by Seth Tobocman.

The Urban Homestead: Your Guide to Self-Sufficient Living in the Heart of the City $17 (18 oz) The Urban Homestead is the essential handbook for a fast-growing new movement: urbanites are becoming gardeners and farmers. By growing their own food and harnessing natural energy, they are planting seeds for the future of our cities. If you would like to harvest your own vegetables, make homemade jam or bread, raise chickens or convert to solar energy, this practical, hands-on book is full of step-by-step projects that will get you started homesteading immediately, whether you live in an apartment or a house. It is also a guidebook to the larger movement and will point you to the best books and internet resources on self-sufficiency topics.

We Need to Eat! $3 (3 oz) An amazing guide to consciously cheap eating and feeding. Over 75 low-cost, quick, all-vegan recipes! Also includes vegan and freegan tips and advice, food and radical activism, info on gardening, finding free food, and giving food away.

You Don't Get There From Here #1-16 $2 (2 oz) Our trusty protagonist, Carrie McNinch, produces an awesome daily comic diary. She shares her ups and downs—coming to terms with her drinking, dealing with her father's Alzheimer's, or fighting some weapon's grade self-doubt. Carrie does not have an easy go of it. Still, Carrie knows how to fight and her sense of humor is intact as we join her in life-affirming jogs through the hills above LA, hanging out with her friendly menagerie of animal companions, and sittin' down to a few months worth of tasty veggie chow.

$20 Superpack: Bicycle! Bicycle! (20 oz) A sampling of bicycle-related titles including: Chainbreaker, Dear Motorist, Go By Bicycle, Stoked on Spokes, Bipedal By Pedal!, and a stop driving sticker. If we are out of any of these titles, we will replace it with related zines, buttons, patches and stickers.

$20 Superpack: Go Vegan! (19 oz) A sampling of vegan titles including: A Chef's Tale, Fire & Ice, In Search of the Lost Taste, Hot damn and Hell Yeah, Krazy Katlady Cook-Zine, We Need to Eat, a button, and a patch. If we are out of any of these titles, we will replace it with one or more of the following: Behind the Mask dvd, Please Don't Feed the Bears, Soy Not Oi, Frugal Vegan Harvest and Holiday #1 & 2, Frugal Vegan Spring and Summer, assorted vegan patches, stickers, and buttons.

$20 Superpack: Make Something! Do Something! (18 oz) This pack is for those that want a great sampling of the many DIY zines and books out there. The pack includes Seizing The Airwaves, Home Composting Made Easy, Olly Olly Oxen Free, How To Make Soap: Without Burning Your Face Off, Wild Fermentation, Brew Not Bombs, Herbal First Aid, Go Fuck Yourself, Pie Any Means Necessary, and a corporate fashion has no passion pin.

$20 Superpack: Punk Fuckin' Rock (19 oz) Mike Rodemann tells

it like it as a punk dad in 9 1/2 Left, then traipse along memory lane over to ABC No Rio: Remember the 90's, and stick around while Joshua Ploeg recalls the 90's on the left coast in Archvision. Bret photo-documents the transitional era in Black Cloud #2, read about it in Avow #22, fight some zombies along with the punx in Brains #1, get a little jaded with Cramhole #1, embrace the lifestyle with Blurt/Gullible and Griot, get responsible with Fort Mortgage and put it all in perspective with Rice Harvester. It's a smoking bargain and a greater starter for putting a little reading next to your record collection.

$20 Superpack: Zines, What, How, Why! (20 oz) Combining the "how" (Make a Zine: When Words and Graphics Collide), the "what" (Zine Yearbook #9), and the why (Notes from Underground), this superpack will give you the motivational kick in the pants to start producing zines!

distributed DVDs

Anarchism in America / Free Voice of Labor $15 (5 oz) In Anarchism in America, a road trip maps anarchism as a distinctly American tradition, interviewing a diverse cast of ordinary people like truckers and factory workers as well as famous anarchists. In Free Voice of Labor, we trace the history of the Yiddish anarchist newspaper of the same name—publishing a final issue after 87 years.

Behind the Mask $14.95 (5 oz) This documentary casts animal liberationists in a positive light and dispels the myth and media disinformation surrounding them.

Between Resistance & Community $12.99 (5 oz) This original documentary focuses on a group of kids who have built a community around a love of music and a passion for creating an alternative to dominant consumerist society. By putting on shows in basements, booking and traveling on national tours, and releasing their own records, these kids attempt to distance themselves from the corporate influence that they consider not only unnecessary, but unwelcome. This fascinating look into the workings of a DIY punk community also examines the scene's shortcomings, such as undercurrents of sexism as well as the problem of self-sufficiency, which pressures some to seek out the same corporate avenues to which the scene strives to be an alternative. Features live footage and interviews with Latterman, On the Might of Princes, The Insurgent, Seven Days of Samsara, plus show-goers, scenesters, zinesters, and activists.

The Garden Cycles Bike Tour Presents: Faces From The New Farm $10 Three quirky ladies took off on bikes, filming what became a 35-minute film chronicling their 2,000 plus mile journey in search of "the new American farmer." From Washington, DC to Montreal and back, the trio interview enthusiastic gardeners in urban areas, youth involved in food justice, new immigrant farmers, and a new generation of back-to-the-landers. A great film for anyone interested in grassroots food and farming or bike adventures.

We are Traffic! / Return of the Scorcher $25 (5 oz) We Are Traffic! chronicles the history and development of the Critical Mass bicycle movement, one of the most spirited and dynamic social/political movements of the '90s, from its beginnings in San Francisco in 1992 to its spread across the globe. Return of the Scorcher is a look at bike culture and bike lifestyles around the world. In the 1890s, before automobiles ruled the roads, bicyclists were referred to as "scorchers" because of their blazing speed. A century later, in a world filled with car-related environmental and social problems, Return of the Scorcher discovers an inspired and evolving bicycling renaissance.

Who is Bozo Texino? $20 (5 oz) Beginning around 1982, Bill Daniel set out to explain travelling hobo culture and the origins of the mysterious freight tag of "Bozo Texino." A film study on the 100-year-old tradition of railroad graffiti mostly shot on freight trips across the western US. The film includes interviews with some of the railroad's greatest graffiti legends; What we are given is a fascinating little window capturing the nature of tagging, and the mysterious long-standing tradition of the seemingly larger-than-life Bozo Texino.
